Map of deaths from cholera in London in 1854

Fatalities in London’s cholera outbreak of 1854 were linked to the central pump; its water was found to have been contaminated with infected sewage from a stricken family.