

A true specialist, a koala bear requires 2.5 lb (1 kg) of eucalyptus leaves a day. This species is found in the wild only in Australia, where eucalyptus is common.

“Different species press against one another, like soap bubbles, crowding and jostling, as one species acquires … some advantage over another.”

G. Evelyn Hutchinson