

Tropical rainforest is the hottest and wettest biome and covers 7 per cent of Earth’s surface. One of the oldest biomes, it also contains far more animal and plant species than any other biome.