

This cartoon, published in Punch magazine in July 1858, was entitled “The Silent Highwayman.” People at the time attributed the spread of cholera to the bad river smells.