

Since their introduction to Australia in 1935, cane toads have outcompeted native frogs because they reproduce far more quickly.

“Now is the time to take action. The costs to habitats and the economy are … out of control.”

Bruce Babbitt

US Secretary of the Interior, (1993–2001)