

---

Whelks feed on barnacles; they are predators.

They also display aggression towards their prey.

In areas where there are large concentrations of barnacles, groups of whelks congregate – like wolf packs.

Whelks are like little wolves in slow motion.

BACK TO ARTICLE