

In the presence of predators …

Prey move on to other areas even if there is less food there.

Prey spend more time hiding in sheltered habitats than feeding in the open.

Even without preying on them, predators can cause prey to fail to thrive.

BACK TO ARTICLE