

Herbivore prey eat plants.

Increased rainfall encourages vegetation.

Herbivore population increases.

Predators move into the area and numbers increase.

Predators eat herbivore prey.

If predators are removed …

Prey population increases.

Overgrazing brings habitat change and loss of species richness.