
Animals come into conflict with each other over food, territory, and mate selection.
They have evolved to react to the behavior of other animals in certain preprogrammed ways.
The best strategy depends on what others are doing.