Triassic: Climate change and changes in the ocean’s chemical composition due to underwater volcanic activity led to the extinction of around 80 per cent of species.

Jurassic: 201 to 145 million years ago.

Cretaceous (k): 145 to 66 million years ago.

Cretaceous: A meteor strike and volcanic activity drive up to 80 per cent of animals, including most dinosaurs, to extinction.

Palaeogene: 66 to 23 million years ago.

Neogene: 23 to 03 million years ago.

Holocene period: 100,000 years ago to present.

BACK TO ARTICLE