

Effects of pollution on health.

The brain: Mental development in children is delayed, and the brains of adults are affected.

The lungs: Air pollution can cause cancer, and is linked to asthma.

The heart: Pollution increases the risk of heart disease and stroke.

The pancreas: Air pollution has been linked to Type 2 diabetes in adults.