

The burden of change.

Greenhouse gas emissions must peak as soon as possible.

Developed nations will take the lead in reducing carbon emissions.

The losses suffered by vulnerable nations due to climate change must be addressed.

Developed countries will provide financial help to developing countries.

BACK TO ARTICLE