(d) The elections will be held in six months time if Panchayati Raj bodies are superseded or dissolved by the state government

Ans. (c) : According to the 73rd Constitutional Amendment, the provision of (a) out of the four answer options of the above question is in Article 243D, (3) (b) is provided in Article 243-I (i) and (d) is provided in Article 243k (3). Only option (c) is not there in the 73rd Constitution amendment act.

63. Proportional representation is NOT necessary in a country where:

(a) There are no reserved constituencies
(b) A two-party system has developed
(c) The first-past-post system prevails
(d) There is a fusion of presidential and Parliamentary forms of government

Ans. (b) : The main purpose of the proportional representation system is to assure the representation of all groups and ideologies. So, it is usually adopted in a multi-party system representing multiple ideologies.

In a two party system, the seats are ultimately going to be divided between the two parties and there is negligible chance of leaving out a group as compared to the multi-party system.

So, first past the post can be adopted in two party system, avoiding the complexities of proportional representation.

64. The concept of Public Interest Litigation originated in:

(a) The United Kingdom
(b) Australia
(c) The United States
(d) Canada

Ans. (c) : The concept of public interest litigation originated in the United States. The general rule of public interest in the Indian Constitution is that the remedy mentioned in Article 226 can be applied only by a person whose legal rights are violated by the state or any person. But in its recent judgments, the Supreme Court has held that any person or association of the society can apply for remedy against the violation of the legal rights of any person or class who, due to his poverty or any other reason, cannot go to the court.

65. If the Prime Minister of India belonged to the Upper House of Parliament:

(a) He will not be able to vote in his favour in the even of a no-confidence motion
(b) He will not be able to speak on the budget in the Lower House
(c) He can make statements only in the Upper House
(d) He has to become a member of the Lower House within six months after being sowrn in as the Prime Minister

Ans. (a) : If the Prime Minister of India belonged to the upper house of parliament then he will not be able to vote in his favour in the event of a nor confidence motion. A no-confidence motion is a parliamentary motion which is moved in Lok Sabha against the entire council of ministers, stating that they are no longer deemed fit to hold positions of responsibility due to their in adequacy in some respect or their failure to carry out their obligation. No prior reason needs to be stated for its adoption in the Lok Sabha.

66. Given below are two statements, one labelled as Assertion (A) and the other labelled as Reason (R):

Assertion (A) : The reservation of thirty-three percent of seats for women in Parliament and State Legislatures does not require Constitutional amendment.

Reason (R) : Political parties contesting elections can allocate thirty-three percent of seats they contest to women candidates without any Constitutional amendment.

The correct option among the following is

(a) Both A and R are true and R is the correct explanation of A
(b) Both A and R are true but R is NOT the correct explanation of A
(c) A is true, but R is false.
(d) A is false, but R is true.

Ans. (d) : Provisions have been made from Article 330 to 334 in Part 16 of the Constitution of India for the reservation of seats for certain classes in Parliament and State Legislatures. If a similar place is to be reserved for women, then this part must be amended. Hence statement (a) is wrong. On the other hand reason (R) is correct, because for example Asom Gana Parishad is a political party, which reserves 35% seats for.

67. In the Presidential election in India, every elected member of the Legislative Assembly of a State shall have as many votes as there are multiples of one thousand in the quotient obtained by dividing the population of the state by the total number of the elected members of the Assembly. As at present (1997) the expression "population" here Means the population as ascertained by the:

(a) 1991 Census (b) 1981 Census
(c) 1971 Census (d) 1961 Census

Ans. (c) : In India, the allocation of seats in the lower legislative houses (Lok Sabha and State Legislative Assemblies) is done by the 'Delimitation Commission' constituted by the Parliament after every ten year census last time in 1974 AD. The Delimitation Commission had allocated seats on the basis of the 1971 census. Later, by the 42nd Constitutional Amendment, 1976, it was decided that the number of seats in the Lok Sabha and the State Legislative Assemblies would be determined on the basis of the 1971 census till 2001. At present, on the basis of the national census, the delimitation has been has been suspended till 2026 AD.

68. Which of the following are/is stated in the Constitution of India?

1. The president shall not be a member of either House of Parliament.
2. The Parliament shall consist of the President and two houses.

Choose the correct answer from the codes given below:

(a) Neither 1 nor 2 (b) Both 1 and 2
(c) 1 alone (d) 2 alone

Ans. (b) : Article 79 of the Indian Constitution provides for the Union that there shall be a Parliament consisting of the President, the Rajya Sabha and the Lok Sabha. The President is not a member of either house of the Parliament.

70. In which one of the following countries are 75 percent of seats in both Houses of Parliament filled on the basis of first-past the post system and 25 percent on the basis of Proportional Representation system of electrons?

(a) Germany (b) Italy
(c) France (d) Russia

Ans. (b) : Italy, troubled by the instability of the contract governments, has established this new system in line with the Bicameral proposals to solve this problem. Under this, parliamentary elections will be held in two phases. The two parties that get the most votes in the first phase will participate in the second phase. In this, the winning party will have the right to 75% of the seats in the House. The remaining 25% seats will be filled through the list system on the basis of proportional representation. Although this system will harm the smaller parties, they can also gain some space in the alliance by bargaining with the major parties for the second phase of voting.

71. In the following quotation,

'WE THE PEOPLE OF INDIA,

(a) Twenty-sixth day of January, 1950
(b) Twenty-sixth day of November, 1949
(c) Twenty-sixth day of January, 1949
(d) None of the above

Ans. (b) : This is the Preamble of the Indian Constitution, on which the date of November 26, 1949 is inscribed. On this day Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar in the Constituent Assembly passed the resolution for the passage of the Constitution. With the passage in the Constituent Assembly, some of the provisions of the Constitution (Citizenship, Elections and Interim Parliament etc.) came into force. The remaining provisions came into force on 26 January 1950.
