13. Consider two Statements and a Question :

Statement-1 : Priya is 4 ranks below Seema and is 31st from the bottom.

Statement-2 : Ena is 2 ranks above Seema and is 37th from the bottom.

Question : What is Seema's rank from the top in the class of 40 students?

Which one of the following is correct is respect of the Statements and the Question?

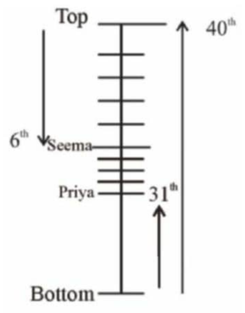

(a) Statement-1 alone is not sufficient to answer the Question

(b) Statement-2 alone is not sufficient to answer the Question

(c) Either Statements-1 alone or Statement-2 alone is sufficient to answer the Question

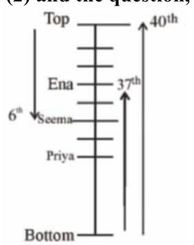

(d) Both Statements-1 and Statement-2 are required to answer the Question :

Ans. (c) : Considering the statement-(1) and the question

From statements (1) and the question,
Seem's rank from the top is 6th.

From statement (2) and the question,

Seema's Rank from the top is 6th.
Hence,
Either statement-1 alone or statement-2 alone is sufficient to answer the question.

14. Consider two Statements and a Question:

Statement-1 : Each of A and D is heavier than each of B, E and F, but none of them is the heaviest.

Statement-2 : A is heavier than D, but is lighter than C.

Question : Who is the heaviest among A, B, C, D and E?

Which one of the following is correct is respect of the Statements and the Question?

(a) Statement-1 alone is sufficient to answer the Question

(b) Statement-2 alone is sufficient to answer the Question

(c) Both Statements-1 and Statements-2 are required to answer the Question

(d) Neither Statements-I alone nor Statement-2 alone nor Statement-2 alone in suffucient to answer the Question

Ans. (a) : ∵ The question is who is the heaviest
A, B, C, D and E–
From statement (I) : Each of A and D is heavier than each of B, E and F, but none of them is the heaviest.
Then

A > B &	D > B
A > E	D > E
A > F	D > F

∴ C is the heaviest.
Hence,
Statement-1 alone is sufficient to answer the Question.

Directions for the following 4 (four) items :

Read the following four passage and answer the items that follow. Your answers to these items should be based on the passages only.

Passage – 1

With respect to what are called denominations of religion, if everyone is left to be a judge of his own religion, there is no such thing as religion that is wrong; but if they are to be a judge of each other's religion, ther is no such thing as a religion that is right, ant therefore all the world is right or all the world is wrong in the matter of religion.

15. What is the most logical assumption that can be made from the passage given above?

(a) No man can live without adhering to some religious denomination.

(b) It is the duty of everyone to propagate one's religious denomination.

(c) Religious denominations tend to ignore the unity of man.

(d) Men do not understand their own religious denomination.

Ans. (c) : From the given passage the most logical assumption is option (c), as when we consider our religion to be the correct one and all others as false, we are assumed that all men are not united by any shared common values or principles.

Passage – 2

It is certain that sedition, wars, and contempt of breach of the laws are not so much to be imputed to the wickedness of the subjects, as to the bad state of a dominion, For men are not born fit for citizenship, but must be made so. Besides, men's natural passions are everywhere the same; and if wickedness more prevails, and more offences are committed in one commonwealth than in another, it is certain that the former has neither enough pursued the end of unity, nor framed its laws with sufficient forethought; and that, therefore, it has failed in making quite goods its right as a commonwealth.

16. Which among the following is the most logical and rational inference that can be made from the passage given above?

(a) Seditions, ware and breach of the laws are inevitable in every domination.

(b) It is not the people, but the sovereign who is responsible for all the problems of any domination.

(c) That dominion is the best which pursues the aim of unity and has laws for good citizenship.

(d) it is impossible for men to establish a good dominion.

Ans. (c) : According to the passage the appropriable answer is : That dominion is the best which pursues the aim of unity and has laws for good citizenship; because option (a) states that issues of sedition many not be inevitable in every dominion so option (a) is incorrect and option (b) is also incorrect because the passage talks about the dominion rather than a sovereign option (d) cannot be correct as the passage hints at the use of laws with sufficient forethought, here the impossible word is extreme.
Hence, option (c) is the most logical ad rational interference that can be drawn.

Passage – 3

Inequality violates a basic democratic norm : the equal standing of citizens. equality is a relation that obtains between persons in respect of some fundamental characteristic that they share in common. Equality is, morally speaking, a default principle. Therefore, persons should not be discriminated on grounds such as race, castes, gender, ethnicity, disability, or class. These features of human condition are morally irrelevant. The idea that one should treat persons with respect not only because some of these persons possess some special features of talent, for example skilled cricketers, gifted musicians, or literary giants, but because persons are human beings, is by now part of commonsense morality.

17. With reference to the above passage, the following assumptions have been made :

1. Equality is a prerequisite for people to participate in the multiple transactions of society from a position of confidence.
2. Occurrence of inequality is detrimental to the survival of democracy.
3. Equal standing of all citizens is an idea that cannot actually be realised even in a democracy.
4. Right to equality should be incorporated into our values and day-to-day political vocabulary.

Which of the above assumptions are valid?

(a) 1 and 2 only (b) 2 and 3 only

(c) 1 and 4 only (d) 3 and 4 only

Ans. (a) : From the given passage the assumption (1) states that Equality is most important in democracy which encourages people to participate in society with confidence. From the assumption (2), when inequality persist the violation of democratic norms bound to take place. So we can assume that occurrence of inequality is detrimental to the survival of democracy assumption (4) is not correct as there is no discussion on a 'Right to equality', it is spoken of as a default principle. Assumption (3) is incorrect, as it says equality as an idea is impossible even in a democracy. This paragraph denotes negative sense.
Hence, option (a) is correct.

Passage – 4

Aristocratic government ruins itself by limiting too narrowly the circle within which power is confined; oligarchic government ruins itself by the incautious scramble for immediate wealth. But even democracy ruins itself by excess of democracy. its basic principle is the equal right of all to hold office and determine public policy. This is, at first glance, a delightful arrangements; it becomes disastrous because the people are not properly equipped by education to select the best rulers and the wisest courses. The people have no understanding and only repeat what their rulers are pleased to tell them. Such a democracy is tyranny or autocracy. — Plato

18. Which one of the following statements best reflects the crux of the passage given above?

(a) Human societies experiment with different forms of governments.

(b) Any form of government tends to deteriorate by excess of its basic principle.

(c) Education of all citizens ensures a perfect, functional and sustainable democracy.

(d) Having a government is a necessary evil because tyranny is inherent in any form of government.

Ans. (b) : According to the passage two forms of government-oligarchies and democracy have been discussed and it has been shown how they can turn into tyrannies due to their excesses. So, option (b) is correct. Option (a) is not reflect the crux of the passage. Option (c) is not correct the reason being that the use of 'perfect' democracy, is hypothetical in nature. Option (d) is incorrect, the use of the word 'tyranny' is extreme.
Hence, option (b) is correct.
