Out shared norms, values and understandings are less concrete than our social networks.

100. The word 'Denisovan' is sometimes mentioned in media in reference to
(a) fossils of a kind of dinosaurs
(b) an early human species
(c) a cave system found in North-East India
(d) a geological period in the history of Indian subcontinent

Ans : (b) The first evidence for Denisovans or Denisova hominins was first discovered in 2008 in a cave in the Altai mountain in Siberia. The Denisovans or Denisova hominins are an extinct species or sub species of archaic humans in the genus Homo.
Scientists have uncovered the complete remains yet from the mysterious ancient- hominin group known as the Denisovans. The jawbone discoursed high on the Tibetan plateau and dated to more than 1,60,000 years ago, is also the first Denisovan specimen found outside the Siberian cave in which the hominin was uncovered a decade ago-confirming suspicions that Denisovan were more widespread than the fossil record currently suggests.
The research marks the first time an ancient human has been identified solely through the analysis of proteins. With no usable DNA, scientists examined proteins in the specimen's teeth, raising hopes that more fossils could be identified even when DNA is not preserved.
