

Seaweed feeding

The marine iguana of the Galápagos Islands is the only lizard in the world that swims and feeds in the sea. Other sea creatures need not be afraid, though, as this monster of the deep is definitely a vegetarian. It only eats seaweed.