- As a measure of further relaxation, it has been decided to dispense with the condition of one year lock-in period for the limit of $22 billion (comprising the limits of infrastructure bonds of $12 billion and $10 billion for non-resident investment in IDFs) within the overall limit of $25 billion for foreign investment in infrastructure corporate bond.
- The residual maturity period (at the time of first purchase) requirement for the entire limit of $22 billion for foreign investment in the infrastructure sector has been uniformly kept at 15 months. The five-year residual maturity requirement for investments by QFIs within the $3 billion limit has been modified to three years original maturity.

ANGEL INVESTOR

A new term in India's financial market, introduced in the Union Budget 2013-14 which announced that SEBI will soon prescribe the provisions by which the angel investor can be recognised as Category I AIF[13] venture capital funds.

Angel investor is an investor who provides financial backing to entrepreneurs for 'starting their business'. Angel investors are usually found among an entrepreneur's family and friends but they may be from outside also. The capital they provide can be a one-time injection of seed money or ongoing support to carry the company through difficult times – in exchange they may like owning share in the business or provide capital as loan (in case of a loan they lend at more favorable terms than other lenders, as they are usually investing in the person rather than the viability of the business). Other than investible capital, these investors provide technical advices and also help the 'start-up' business with their lucrative contacts.

They are focused on helping the business succeed, rather than reaping a huge profit from their investment. Angel investors are essentially the exact opposite of a venture capitalist in their 'intention' (who has high profit prospects as their prime focus). But in one sense both – an angel investor
