engaged in promoting economic and social progress of its developing member countries in the Asia-Pacific region. Its principal functions are as follows:

(i) to make loans and equity investments for the economic and social advancement of its developing member countries;

(ii) to provide technical assistance for the preparation and execution of development projects and programmes and advisory services;

(iii) to respond to the requests for assistance in coordinating development policies and plans in developing member countries; and

(iv) to respond to the requests for assistance and coordinating development policies and plans of developing member countries.

India's subscription to the Bank's capital stock is 7.190 per cent with a voting power of 6.050 per cent (as per the ADB Annual Report, 2010), as quoted by India 2013.

India started borrowing from ADB's Ordinary Capital Resources(OCR) in 1986. The Bank's lending has been mainly in the Energy, Transport and Communications, Finance, Industry and Social Infrastructure sectors.

The Bank has extended technical assistance to India in addition to loans from its OCR window. The technical assistance provided include support for institutional strengthening, effective project implementation and policy reforms as well as for project preparation.

India holds the position of Executive Director on the Board of Directors of the Bank—its Constituency comprises India, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Lao PDR and Tajikistan. The Finance Minister is India's Governor on the Board of Governors of the Asian Development Bank and Secretary (EA) is the Alternate Governor.

OECD

The roots[17] of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), Paris, go back to the rubble of Europe after World War II. Determined to avoid the mistakes of their predecessors in the wake