1. Format of RFD

A Results-Framework Document (RFD) is essentially a record of understanding between a department/ministry representing the people's mandate, and the Head of the organisation responsible for implementing this mandate. This document contains not only the agreed objectives, policies, programme and projects but also success indicators and targets to measure progress in implementing them. To ensure the successful implementation of agreed actions, RFD may also include necessary operational autonomy. In the case of the Responsibility Centres (attached offices, subordinate offices, and autonomous organisations), the RFD will represent a record of understanding between the parent department/ministry and the Responsibility Centre. The RFD seeks to address three basic questions:

(i) What are organisation's main objectives for the year?

(ii) What actions are proposed to achieve these objectives?

(iii) How would someone know at the end of the year the degree of progress made in implementing these actions? That is, what are the relevant success indicators and their targets?

The RFD should contain the following five sections:

(i) Organisation's Vision, Mission, Objectives and Functions.

(ii) Inter se priorities among key objectives, success indicators and targets.

(iii) Trend values of the success indicators.

(iv) Description and definition of success indicators and proposed measurement methodology.

(v) Specific performance requirements from other departments/organisations that are critical for delivering agreed results.

2. Evaluation Methodology

At the end of the year, the parent ministry/department will look at the achievements of the organisation, compare them with the targets, and determine the composite score. The composite score shows the degree to
