be reversed, and for this to happen there has to be systemic international pressure on the regime.