economic, social, cultural, educational, health, and related matters and Make recommendations with respect to any such matters to the General Assembly to the members of the United Nations, and to the specialized agencies concerned.

2. Make recommendations for the purpose of promoting respect for, and observance of, human rights and fundamental freedoms for all.
3. Prepare draft conventions for submission to the General Assembly, with respect to matters falling within its competence.
4. Call, in accordance with the rules prescribed by the United Nations, international conferences on matters falling within its competence.

Under Article 63, the Council may enter into agreements with any of the agencies referred to in Article 57, defining the terms on which the agency concerned shall be brought into relationship with the United Nations. Such agreements shall be subject to approval by the General Assembly. It may also coordinate the activities of the specialized agencies through consultation with, and recommendations to, such agencies and through recommendations to the General Assembly and to the members of the United Nations.

According to Article 64 the Council may take appropriate steps to obtain regular reports from the specialized agencies. It may make arrangements with the members of the United Nations and with the specialized agencies to obtain reports on the steps taken to give effect to its own recommendations and to recommendations on matters falling within its competence made by the General Assembly. It may also communicate its observations on these reports to the General Assembly.

Article 65 specifies that the Council may furnish information to the Security Council and shall assist the Security Council upon its request.

Article 66 also specifies that the Council shall perform such functions falling within its competence in connection with the carrying out of the recommendations of the General Assembly. It may also, with the approval of the General Assembly, perform services at the request of the members of the United Nations and at the request of the