Timeline of Historical Events

5000–3000 BCE	The Anyathian culture flourishes in northern Burma.
500 BCE	The Pyū enter the upper portion of the Ayeyarwaddy valley.
300 BCE	The Mon begin settling in the Sittang valley.
100 BCE	The Pyū arrive in Burma and establish the city-states of Beikthano, Mongamo, Śrī Kşetra, Peikhonomyo, and Halingyi.
656	Śrī Kşetra is abandoned.
832	The Tai-Shans of Nan-Chao conquer the Pyū capital of Halingyi.
900	The Burman arrive in northern Burma.
1057	King Anawrahta conquers Thaton and founds the first unified Burmese state at Bagan.
1277	The Bagan army advances into Yunnan to confront Kublai Khan's Mongol army.
1287	Bagan king Narathihapati is assassinated by his son Thihathu.
	Following King Narathihapati's assassination, the Mongol army defeats the Bagan army at the battle of Bagan.
1364	The Burman Ava dynasty is founded at Inwa in northern Burma.
1369	The Mons transfer their capital to Bago.
1385–1425	War between Inwa and Bago.
1433	Mrauk-U is founded.
1436–1449	The kingdom of Ava fights a series of campaigns against the Min and the Tai in Yunnan that later become known as the Luchuan-Pingmian campaigns.
1486	King Min-gyi-nyo founds the first Toungoo dynasty at Toungoo.
1519	The Portuguese establish a trading station at Martaban.
1527	The Shan overrun the kingdom of Ava.
1531	The Toungoo dynasty reunites Burma.
1539	The Toungoo dynasty invades Muang Chiang Kran.
1560	The Toungoo conquer the city-state of Manipur.