from a political perspective, a good science-fiction movie is worth far more than an article in Science or Nature.