self-correcting mechanisms and, 274–75
totalitarian computer politics and, 355
utilitarianism and, 281–84
See also alignment problem; user engagement computer politics, 211–12
truth–order balance and, 229
unfathomability of, 224–25
See also democratic computer politics; totalitarian computer politics computers capabilities of, 207–8
early development of, 188, 226–28
evolution of, 193, 216–17, 218–19
history of, 193
physical basis of, 218
Soviet industry and, 188, 226–27
terminology for, 217
written documents as forerunners of, 46
See also AI; algorithms; computer-based network; computers as independent agents computers as independent agents, xxiii–xxiv blame on human nature and, 261–62 computer politics and, 224 digital anarchy and, 342–43
fallibility and, 261, 299
political influence and, 197, 198–200, 260–61, 263, 272, 344–45, 371 regulation and, 344–45
tech company culpability and, 219–20, 261–64
tech company pushback on, 261–62
totalitarian computer politics and, 354–56
as unprecedented, 194–95, 399
See also computer network goals
confirmation bias, 104
Confucianism, 159, 160
connection, 12, 13–14, 16–17, 19
conspiracy theories
AI and, 200
biometric surveillance and, 240