- CloudFormation uses a declarative approach in JSON or YAML: you define only the end state of your infrastructure, and CloudFormation figures out how this state can be achieved. The major parts of a CloudFormation template are parameters, resources, and outputs.