Notes

1 Unless otherwise mentioned, the "legislature" in this chapter refers to the union level: Pyithu Hluttaw (People's Assembly), Amyotha Hluttaw (Nationalities Assembly) and joint sitting of these two assemblies known as Pyidaungsu Hluttaw (Union Assembly).
2 For more details on institutional constraints of Myanmar's legislature, see Williams (2014).
3 Interview with U Aung Zin, National Democratic Front legislator from Pyithu Hluttaw on 31 January 2014.
4 On 26 February 2013, at the Fourteenth Day of the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw Sixth Plenary Session, USDP lawmaker U Hla Swe proposed to revise the budget by giving an example of peace investment in Sri Lanka.
5 Interview with a Wa legislator from Pyithu Hluttaw on 26 March 2014.
6 Interview with a legislator from Pyithu Hluttaw on 17 February 2014.
7 There are eighteen ethnic legislators from Amyotha and Pyithu Hluttaw representing equally. Among them, eight were from USDP and the rest from ethnic parties.
8 The Pyithu Hluttaw has a fifteen-member National Races Affairs, Uplifting of Rural Livelihood and Internal Peace Implementation Committee and the Amyotha Hluttaw has a ten-member National Races Affairs, De-escalating Conflicts and Peace Process Committee.
9 Interview with U Hkyet Hting Nan, Kachin legislator from Amyotha Hluttaw, on 5 June 2015.
10 Interview with Mahn Aung Tin Myint, Kayin legislator from Amyotha Hluttaw on 28 February 2014. On the Unlawful Associations Act see Su Mon Thazin Aung, this volume.
11 Because of the politicized nature of the use of "Bengali" and "Rohingya", the author chooses to use the general term "Muslims".
12 Observations made from fourth to ninth plenary sessions of the Hluttaw, July 2012- March 2014.
13 Interview an RNDP legislator from Rakhine State Hluttaw on 13 March 2014.
14 On 13 August 2012, a Rakhine USDP legislator called for a motion to urge the government to prevent violence, illegal immigrants and to draft a strategy in the aftermath of communal violence in Rakhine State. A legislator from his own party challenged his motion. Later, he didn't receive enough support and his motion was rejected.
15 Interview with a military legislator from Amyotha Hluttaw on 11 February 2014.
16 During communal conflict in Thandwe, in Rakhine State, police arrested the local RNDP chairman.