

1300 – 1450

ENGLISH LONGBOWMAN

"THEN THE ENGLISH ARCHERS STEPPED FORTH ONE PACE AND LET FLY THEIR ARROWS SO WHOLLY AND SO THICK, THAT IT SEEMED SNOW – THE SHARP ARROWS RAN INTO THE MEN OF ARMS AND INTO THEIR HORSES, AND MANY FELL."

FRENCH CHRONICLER JEAN FROISSART DESCRIBING THE BATTLE OF CRÉCY, 1346
