is produced in a particular geographical location. It may be a natural product or man made product. For example, Banaras silk sarees, Coimbatore wet grinder, etc.

The Geographical Indications of Goods (registration and protection) Act, 1999 observes "geographical indication", in relation to goods, means an indication which identifies such goods as agricultural goods, natural goods or manufactured goods as originating, or manufactured in the territory of a country, or a region or locality in that territory, where a given quality, reputation or other characteristic of such goods is essentially attributable to its geographical origin and in case where such goods are manufactured goods one of the activities of either the production or of processing or preparation of the goods concerned takes place in such territory, region or locality, as the case may be"[5].

If geographical indication is given to any product others cannot use that name. For example, if Banaras silk saree is conferred with geographical indication, others can also produce silk sarees but cannot claim that their saree is Banaras silk saree.

Industrial Designs

Designs when recognised, as it belongs to anybody, cannot be used by others. The Designs Act, 2000 observes "design" denotes only the features of shape, configuration, pattern, ornament or composition of lines or colours applied to any article whether in two dimensional or three dimensional or in both forms, by any industrial process or means, whether manual, mechanical or chemical, separate or combined, which in the finished article appeal to and are judged solely by the eye"[6].
