

Cave paintings in Altamira, Spain, show the importance of bison to early humans. The wild population became extinct in 1927, but captive herds have since been reintroduced.

See also: Predator–prey equations • The food chain • The ecosystem • Energy flow through ecosystems • Evolutionarily stable state • Biodiversity and ecosystem function